a preemptive daily (regular daily will follow tomorrow)

is this what we've been praying for? on february 8th during, a chapel service on asbury campus, at least a hundred young people came forward and fell to their knees at the altar. it began a mighty campus revival that continues to this day and word has it that it is spreading to other campuses as well. has the woke young generation finally awoken to God?

we all know that God has a people He wants to rescue from this generation. only God knows where all this is heading but we know what Jesus said. "and I also say to you that you are peter, and on this rock I will build My church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it." matt 16:18 no, He is not calling peter the rock but the rock is the revelation that Jesus Christ is indeed the Son of God.

the Holy Spirit is making that truth known today around the world. religious revivals and growth are happening all over the world. in sub-sahara africa christianity is growing faster than their actual population growth. and by the way, sub-sahara population growth is currently the fastest in the world.

the growth of the pentecostal growth in recent years has been nothing less than staggering. in 1970 they represented only about five percent of christians while today they number about twenty-five percent. they are projected to reach over a billion by the end of the century. that amounts to the current population of china. (of course, i don't believe any of us think there is anywhere near that much time left.) people today are tired of the old form and ceremony traditional religion has been offering. they are hungry for more. the spirit within them yearns for more of the Spirit of Truth Jesus spoke of.

some studies show that the growth of christianity is far outreaching the growth of islam. by these estimates there will be soon be three christians for every two muslims. politics and culture have been so impacted by the christian sentiment, many leftist believe the rise of a christian theocracy is trying to establish itself. (note the recent rise of the prime minister of italy.) the media and ruling elite actively strive to hide all these things from the people at large.

yes, darkness is having it's rise but even as the devil turns up the heat, God will be matching it - burner for burner. the bible says the devil will have his day. the bible also says, "those of the people who understand shall instruct many; yet for many days they shall fall by sword and flame, by captivity and plundering." dan 11:33

in recent years we have witness zealots for religion sacrifice their lives for what they believe would earn them heaven. one cannot earn something that is freely given. it had to be freely given because it's cost was more than anyone could pay. anyone but One, that is.

"I came to send fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled!" luke 12:49 pockets; pockets around the world. the match is lit and soon the fire will become a blaze which cannot be contained. the church will have to be removed for darkness to have it's day simply because darkness cannot overcome light. it exists only in the absence of light. do you feel the spark in your heart yet? feed the fire and watch it grow. the Holy Spirit has a work to do in these days and i pray we all be a feather drifting wherever He blows.

how long will it be before the secular world takes stringent notice and attempts to "cancel" us out - figuratively and literally? it may soon not just be words of condemnation we will have to endure. count the costs today. decide now how far you are willing to go and whether there be any price too costly for you to pay.

i have counted the cost. whatever i have was given to me by God and i freely offer it all back to Him. "finally, there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give to me on that day, and not to me only but also to all who have loved His appearing." 2 tim 4:8 maranatha. even so, come Lord Jesus!
