

can we talk

"after two days He will revive us; on the third day He will raise us up, that we may live in His sight." hos 6:2

i don't know how many of you out there are big youtube watchers, but i find it interesting that God is raising up so many watchmen in these hours. no longer is truth to be gleaned exclusively from our church and pastor, many of which are even leading masses astray. God is speaking directly to those who are willing to search the scriptures and open up knowledge sealed for these end times.

one of those watchmen i love to watch is tyler on channel "generation2434." for those who don't immediately grasp it, the name is taken from matthew 24. "assuredly, I say to you, this generation will by no means pass away till all these things take place." that's directly from our Lord and many of us take Him at His word.

new revelation is saying that the feast of pentecost is not the traditional time always celebrated, but instead on the feast of new wine celebrated on the 9th of av, our july 26th this year. it makes sense the ascension of Jesus would also fulfill a feast time as His whole life was a fulfillment of scripture. it also makes sense why many of the crowd at peter's preaching would think they were drunk.

they say this is also when boaz took ruth (a gentile) to be his bride. boaz's union with ruth is a clear representation of Jesus and His gentile bride. it is a summer time, a harvest time when ruth came to Him in secret. proverbs says, "he who gathers in summer is a wise son," and we know Jesus is a wise son.

whether the 9th of av will be the rapture of the church is a matter of speculation, but i believe it qualifies as a high watch time. the year depends upon when our Lord was crucified: 30, 31, 32 or 33 AD. whichever year it is, it means that we are now in a four year possible span which rounds out the two thousand years, the second day in God's timetable. i lean toward 30 AD because the temple was destroyed in 70 AD and that is 40 years from 30 AD, a highly significant number with God.

if indeed it is to happen this year, it would mean we are only about a month away from joining our Lord. at least it means that for those of us who believe in a pre-trib rapture and i see it confirmed more in scripture everyday. so 2030 minus the seven year tribulation equals 2023. "God did not appoint us to wrath" 1 thess 5:9, and the whole seven years is His wrath being poured out and isn't complete until the last bowl is poured out. "the seven last plagues, for in them the wrath of God is complete." rev 15:1 all now remaining is God's righteous judgment.

i know there is much dissension in the body whether it will be pre-trib or post-trib. it's easy to see how someone could take either stance. after all, why should this generation be exempt from the suffering of all previous saints? i would answer that many right now are suffering through trials and tribulations, but it is not God's wrath. it is man's. and indeed, even if there be only one month until our rapture, who knows what wrath satan and man may deliver to believers? if it hasn't touched you already, it may yet.

even now, war is rumored as imminent, lives of children and adults are being willingly mutilated, lawlessness runs amuck, confusion and deception reigns while artificial intelligence prepares us for the final deception. all the while people are blindly "eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage;" entranced by the bobbles around them and blindly oblivious to the terrors awaiting them. "but even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing." 2cor 4:3

scripture says, "when they say, 'peace and safety!' then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman." 1 thess 5:3 if this preludes the coming of the Lord at the end of the tribulation, how could people possibly be thinking "peace and safety" and what possible "sudden destruction" could be coming after having already endured the seven previous years of hell on earth; unlike any time ever before. a time when "unless those days were shortened, no flesh would be saved" matt 24:22

whatever one believes, our Lord is coming and He's coming soon. so how should our actions be? Jesus scolded those at His first coming because they did not recognize the season of His coming. we should know the season. the convergence of sin and signs are all around us. "the night is coming when no one can work." john 9:4 we must seize the day and what we can for His glory.

"exhorting one another, and so much the more as you see the day approaching." heb 10:25 this is the day all the saints of old have been waiting for and they shall precede us into glory. look up all you who love the Lord. "thus the Lord my God will come, and all the saints with You." zech 14:5 we go ahead to prepare for battle with our Lord" enemies. we eagerly await Your summons!
