

a season of life or of Spirit

"to everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven." eccl 3:1

when our Lord came to earth the first time He chided them because they did not recognize the season they were in. not spring, summer, winter or fall, but a season dictated by the Spirit, accompanied by the moon and the stars in the heavens. after all, they were set in their place for that very reason.

now, two thousand years later, the heavens again proclaim a coming of the Lord. "now a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a garland of twelve stars. then being with child, she cried out in labor and in pain to give birth." rev 12:1-2 whether this is "it," we cannot say for certain.

there was much excitement in christendom when that sign appeared on september 23, 2017. now, in september of 2023, it appears again, with many more details completing the picture. this is a full six years later, almost as if declaring the six thousand year span of man has now reached a climax. i readily admit i am not well studied in the stars, but there are those who are. i would refer you to this short video on youtube for further explanation. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=veZAULGqOSQ>

"then the Lord said to mooses, 'go to the people and consecrate them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their clothes.'" exo 19:10 this was commanded in preparation to go up and meet the Lord. i found i had been doing that very cleaning friday and saturday, unconsciously. that scripture occurred to me just as i was washing my hair on saturday and i thought, wouldn't it be wonderful if this was just a precursor to our going up to meet the Lord. silly to consider? perhaps, and perhaps it is just the kind of grace our Lord might bestow. He is intricately involved in all the universe, and even in our lives. does He not number our hairs?

never before have we seen such a preponderance of scriptures coming together. if there are more one should expect, i can't imagine what they could possibly be. could the Lord or anyone scold us for noticing them and expecting according? we are told repeatedly to watch and pray; to look for "the blessed hope and glorious appearing of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ." titus 2:13 i'm watching. i'm praying. are you?

"when they say, 'peace and safety!' then sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman. and they shall not escape. but you, brethren, are not in darkness, so that this day should overtake you as a thief. you are all sons of light and sons of the day. we are not of the night nor of darkness." 1 thess 5:3-5 and now, the united nations will soon be making a covenant for peace and safety, but there is none to be had without our God at center stage.

the pregnant woman is being clearly heralded in the heavens, and the man child she shall birth is the church to be raptured up to be with our Lord. "because you have kept My command to persevere, I also will keep you from the hour of trial which shall come upon the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth." rev 3:10 have you kept His command to persevere? are you washed in the saving blood of our Lord Jesus? then look up. rapture possibility is shouting it's imminence. there is a significant chance this could still be the time everyone has been waiting for. timing is not dictated by man's calendar, but God's. the first sliver of the new moon is our guide. i hear it has now been sighted at 7:03 pm on saturday. this next week should be critical.

it pierces my heart to the quick that most of the world marches blindly ahead, unaware of what lies beyond. even a lot of christendom is living unguarded, unprepared and unwatchful. such is true weeping for sin - it cuts to the heart. we all have sin. christians just have their's covered, thank God.

Lord, let me weep for nought but sin!
and after none but thee!
and then i would - o that i might - a constant weeper be!

we must clearly discern the times and the season. let us not be caught "unaware" this time also. and yes, if this time should come and pass as all others have, i will not be dismayed. i will not give up on the Lord because He never gives up on me. "'the Lord is my portion,' says my soul, 'therefore i hope in Him!'" lam

3:24 i will continue to watch because Jesus is my "Blessed Hope." not just for this year, but now and forever!

"and what I say to you, I say to all: watch!" mark 13:37